Your Hosts:

Operating in Richmond, VA since 1896, the Museum of the Confederacy has now expanded with the addition of a new location in Appomattox, VA. Drawing from a rich collection of artifacts and documents, the Museum of the Confederacy-Appomattox interweaves stories of the Confederate government, the military, civilians and enslaved and free African Americans. The exhibits detail events leading up to, during and following the war. As visitors experience our galleries, they are surrounded with “real stuff” bringing to life “real stories” from “real people.”

On Palm Sunday, 1865, Lee's surrender at Appomattox Court House, Virginia signaled the end of the Southern States attempt to create a separate nation. Appomattox Court House National Historical Park is comprised of many original historic structures along with several reconstructed buildings on approximately 1,700 acres in rural southside Virginia.

Summer Teacher Workshop

June 28, 2012

9am to 4 pm

Hosted by:

Appomattox Court House National
Historical Park

&

The Museum of the Confederacy
(Appomattox)

Come spend a day in 1865!

Program funding provided by Eastern National

The Workshop:

Begin your day at the Museum of the Confederacy with a guided tour of the galleries, then experience hands-on educational programs, just like the ones students attend on field trips.

Workshop attendees are then treated to a complimentary box lunch.

After lunch, travel 2 miles down the road to Appomattox Court House NHP for an afternoon of hands-on programs and a guided tour of the historic village.

Attendees will participate in programs covering a variety of topics, including: Civil War medicine, a Soldier's Story, Local Lifestyles of the 1860's, Toys and Games of the 1860's, McLean House tour, Parole Pass printing and more! Programs satisfy Virginia SOL's.

Each attendee will receive a box of materials related to program topics. These materials will augment teacher's classroom instruction.

Registration Information:

Workshop is limited to 15 attendees.

No more than 2 attendees from the same school. Teachers must be representing different grade levels if from same school.

There is no charge to attend the workshop.

Teachers provide their own transportation.

Lunch is provided to all attendees, catered by the Babcock House.

Each hosting site will provide attendees with information on site's operating hours, tours, school field trip opportunities and fees.

Each attendee will participate in pre and post workshop surveys.

Each attendee will receive a complimentary box of educational materials (value approximately $25)

Teachers may request CEC credits from their own school district
